The witchfinder stood on the edge of the square at some distance from the burning stake, savouring his moment of triumph. He saw those witches fly. Did the crowds notice? No! Elspeth, her beauty melting before their eyes as if she were a fragrant candle, charmed them. But Matthew saw. He knew Elspeth survived. Wherever she is, he will find her. He will hunt her down, and one will die. Their soul cast down. It is his solemn vow. He will not suffer a witch to live. She rose with the hot swirling smoke, and tumbled through the centuries, from the clear cool air. All Hallows' Eve looms. A special day when the veil lifts and Elspeth has organised a party . . . A bewitchingly dark fairy tale set in the seventeenth and twenty-first centuries, Somerset.

This is one of the most significant military books of the twentieth century. By an outstanding soldier of independent mind, it pushed forward the evolution of land warfare and was directly responsible for German armoured supremacy in the early years of the Second World War. Published in 1937, the result of 15 years of careful study since his days on the German General Staff in the First World War, Guderian's book argued, quite clearly, how vital the proper use of tanks and supporting armoured vehicles would be in the conduct of a future war. When that war came, just two years later, he proved it, leading his Panzers with distinction in the Polish, French and Russian campaigns. Panzer warfare had come of age, exactly as he had forecast. This first English translation of Heinz Guderian's classic book - used as a textbook by Panzer officers in the war - has an introduction and extensive background notes by the modern English historian Paul Harris.

"Having been born a freeman, and for more than thirty years enjoyed the blessings of liberty in a free State—and having at the end of that time been kidnapped and sold into Slavery, where I remained, until happily rescued in the month of January, 1853, after a bondage of twelve years—it has been suggested that an account of my life and fortunes would not be uninteresting to the public." -an excerpt

Tatum Everley is a freshman at Western Michigan University. Due to an emotionally and psychologically abusive past relationship, Tate struggles from Complex-Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. She has been working on controlling her symptoms and flashbacks, but when she meets Axel Burne at a fraternity party, who is notorious for sleeping around and getting into fights, she tries her best to dodge the bullet. Axel starts to become intrigued by Tate, but she's better off choosing Lucas- the sweet guy who has been trying to take her out since orientation. But even though Lucas is the better option, Axel keeps reappearing. Tate continues to try to stay away from him, but it starts becoming harder to, and as she gets closer to him, things start to get way out of hand. If Tate wants her happy ending and her sanity intact, then she has to push through the hardships and maintain control over her disorder.

Advances in child passenger safety Child Occupant Protection in Motor Vehicle Crashes presents a collection of research into the advancement of safety measures to keep child passengers safe. Seeking a deeper understanding of children's' biochemical responses and tolerance limits, the work presented here aims to find solutions to persistent problems including out-of-position child occupants and complex pediatric injuries. Featuring the latest data from laboratory child restraint system testing, this book provides insight to guide community education and future research.
