Face Hunter is a hyper-aggro deck that aims to rush down opponents by dealing damage to their 'face' as quickly as possible. It largely relies on cards that can immediately do damage to opponents supplemented by the Steady Shot Hero Power. While many cards historically used in the deck have been the prime target for nerfs in the past, it still surfaces in various meta games and proves itself ...

As such, it emphasizes unstoppable damage from the Hero Power Steady Shot, and Charge minions like ...

Face Hunter is one of the oldest aggro decks in Hearthstone history, with a simple gameplan: leverage early tempo on the board so that you can use Steady Shot the way it was always intended to be – the instrument of brutal, cold-blooded murder. Turns out, a constant source of two damage per turn on tap is a pretty effective way to close out games, and Classic staples like ...

A year-long global face-hunting expedition capturing the atmosphere and style trends of each city visited career with the advertising agencies Saatchi & Saatchi and Leo Burnett before founding one of the most innovative fashion blogs on the internet, which bills itself as 'eye candy for the style-hungry'. Until recently, fashion trends were created by designers, celebrity models and fashion editors from the top down; now they 'trickle up' from the street to the runway, sometimes bypassing the fashion industry entirely. Face Hunter is at the forefront of this fashion revolution as he travels the globe, snapping the most stylish looks in the street and discovering beguiling individualists in some 30 countries. These unexpected new icons of style are gathered together in over 300 photographs, accompanied by Face Hunter's sharp observations from the new frontline of fashion: the street corner.

Following the runaway success of his first book, pioneering street fashion photographer Yvan Rodic (better known to his fans as Face Hunter) is back with a travel diary that chronicles a year-long face-hunting expedition to more than 30 of his favourite fashion cities. Follow him to the world's most stylish cities, which range from the established fashion capitals of New York, Milan and Paris to exciting new style centres in Africa, Asia and South America and even unexpected gems such as Baku. A young child in Tokyo wears fantastic striped sunglasses; trainers are paired with cowrie shells in Cape Town; a woman poses in a fake leopard-skin coat outside Milan Cathedral; blue suede shoes pound the streets of Beirut. Forget the catwalk. You never know what will catch Face Hunter's eye.

Face Hunter, pseudo derri è re le quel se cache le photographe-blogueur de mode Yvan Rodic, parcourt la planète pour dénicher dans la rue et sur le vif les looks les plus inattendus, inventifs, avant-gardistes, inspirés, délectables, sophistiqués, envoûtants, colorés, glamour. Il fait partie de ces nouveaux « streetstylers », ces chasseurs de tendances qui œuvrent en parallèle du monde officiel de la mode. Chaque jour des milliers de professionnels du milieu et de fashionistas du monde entier se connectent sur son site pour voir ses dernières images ramenées de Paris, Londres, New York, mais aussi Mexico, Moscou ou encore Copenhague. Il a rassemblé ici plus de 300 portraits de ces nouvelles icônes du style qu'il commente avec mordant depuis le nouvel avant-poste de la mode : le coin de la rue.

Winner of the 2019 John Collier Jr Award Street style blogging has experienced a meteoric rise in popularity over the last decade. Amateur photographers, often with no formal training in fashion, have become critical arbiters of taste and trends, influencing the representations that appear in magazines and on runways, and putting new cities on the fashion world map. This cutting-edge book documents the evolution of street style photography, from the fieldwork photos of early anthropology to the glamorized snapshots that appear on blogs today, and explores the structural shifts in the global fashion industry that street style has helped bring about. Chronicling author and anthropologist Brent Luvaas' experience over three years of blogging through vivid street imagery and rich ethnographic detail, this book turns the lens of street style photography back onto anthropology itself, arguing that the phenomenon is a powerful mode of amateur ethnography. Bloggers blur the distinction between professional and amateur, insider and outsider, self and brand. This book documents that blur from the ground level—from the streets of Philadelphia to the sidewalks of New York Fashion Week. Street Style is an essential read for students and scholars of fashion, anthropology, sociology, media and cultural studies, and fans of street style photography alike.
