But I suggest that sometime through that long dark night, the burning in the bones of the prophet, the word of God, triumphed over the tremblings of his heart. The Word began to prove itself true. Heinrich Ewald called Jeremiah, “ the most human prophet. ” To Douglas Humphries, he ’ s always been Jerry, “ the prophet who talked back. ”

Unexpectedly, blessedly standing in opposition to everything he thought it took to be one of the faithful.

testimony, prayer, preaching, and singing into a seamless and multifaceted service of worship. Personal stories ground the discussion at every turn, while experiential testimony fuels the unfolding arguments. Fire in My Bones is an original exploration of experience and belief in a community of African American Christians, but it is also an exploration of African American aesthetics, the study of belief, and the ethnographic enterprise.

This challenging book is designed to move the reader from complacency and apathy to an energized, passionate believer.

In the Book of Jeremiah, God does not choose Jeremiah because he is qualified--rather, God qualifies Jeremiah because he is chosen! Like Jeremiah, each of God's children have a purpose that He longs for us to understand. We can only discover this purpose once we realize it's not about us--it's about God.
