It is critical for the food industry to maintain a current understanding of the factors affecting food choice, acceptance and consumption since these influence all aspects of its activities. This subject has matured in recent years and, for the first time, this book brings together a coherent body of knowledge which draws on the experiences in industrial and academic settings of an international team of authors. Written for food technologists and marketers, the book is also an essential reference for all those concerned with the economic, social, and psychological aspects

Providing a critical framework for the consideration of the relationship between modern social anthropology and linguistics, this volume covers topics such as classification, symbolism, and structuralism. The relevance of the works of Saussure, Lévi-Strauss and Chomsky is considered. There are two case-studies: the first outlines a 'social history' of the succession of pidgins that are documented on the West African coast, ending with Pidgin English. The second analyzes the status of three language varieties used in a 'trilingual' community in the Homesick cabin boy Davy isn't a very good sailor. He hates heights, feels sick from the swaying sea and ruins the ship stew with too much pepper. The only thing that keeps him going are the crazy stories Cook tells about the grizzly sea monsters. But when a huge wave sweeps him overboard, Davy finds himself in much stormier waters... and on the ship of a vengeful skeletal pirate captain! How will Davy get home now?!
