haunting love story
told in the voice of
a man who appears
to age backwards
We are each the
love of someone's life. So begins The Confessions of Max

Tivoli, a heartbreaking love story with a narrator like no other. At his birth, Max's father declares him a "nisse," a creature of Danish myth, as his baby son has the external physical appearance of an old, dying creature. Max grows older like

any child, but his physical age
appears to go backward--on the outside a very old
man, but inside still a fearful child. The story is told in
three acts. First,
young Max falls in love with a
neighborhood girl,
Alice, who ages as

normally as any of us. Max, of course, does not; as a young man, he has an older man's body. But his curse is also his blessing: as he gets older, his body grows younger, so each successive time he finds his Alice, she does not recognize him. She takes him for a stranger, and Max is given

another chance at love. Set against the historical backdrop of San Francisco at the turn of the
twentieth century, Max's life and
confessions
question the very nature of time, of
appearance and

itself. A beautiful
and daring feat of
the imagination,
Andrew Sean
Greer's *The

world through the eyes of a
"monster," a being
who confounds the
very certainties by
which we live and in doing so embodies

in extremis what it means to be human.

and the filmmaking process can be very personal. To keep up with the times, I've digitized Chins. It was originally published in hardcover/analog fifteen years ago, which is a vast amount of time in the evolution of books and technology, and it was time to get current. The advance of

technology is great
for a book like this,
which is jammed
When it came out
originally, the
photographs all had to be black and
white and
moderately sized on
the page. Now, any

photo that was originally taken in color can strut its stuff. Overall, the resolution of the images is off-the-charts better than the first go-around. This is one "sequel" that I'm happy to be a part of, since we could make so many technical improvements. The process was very similar to restoring an old movie. Since I knew that it was going to be reissued, I also had a look at the story being told and decided to condense, move, or clarify some chapters, all or in part. I also tried to add a hint of historical context,

since it has been a
decade and a half
since Chins first came out. I hope
you enjoy it.
